

What is MAP?

The Measures of Academic Progress, or MAP, is a formative assessment that is given to your child three times each year. It is correlated to the Common Core State Standards. This is a n untimed, multiple choice test that is taken on an computer. It is both adaptive (adjusts to the level of difficulty appropriate for your child), as well as diagnostic (identifies specific strengths of your child in specific areas).

When will my child take MAP?

A Parent's Guide to MAP

The RIT scale is an achievement scale that helps to measure your child's growth over time. It has the same meaning, regardless of your child's age or grade level. You may use these charts to determine if your child is performing at, above or below grade level compared to students across the nation.
